Historical Sketch

Lincoln High School was founded in Kansas City, Missouri, in 1867 as an elementary school for African Americans. It became a separate high school in 1890 under the leadership of Principal Gabriel N. Grisham. Beginning in 1908, the high school was located at 19th and Tracy Avenue. The school moved into an expanded facility at 2111 Woodland Avenue in 1936 under the leadership of Principal Hugh O. Cook. As Kansas City began desegregating its public schools in the mid-1950s, Lincoln High School remained an all-black school. In 1978, the student body was integrated and the institution became a magnet school operating under the name Lincoln Academy for Accelerated Study. The name changed to Lincoln College Preparatory Academy in 1986.
