Biographical Sketch:

The Kansas City Call is one of the oldest newspapers in Kansas City. It was originally published in 1919. It remained one of the biggest black newspapers in the United States. The newspaper's coverage of Kansas City news helped win battles in desegregation in the 1920s and 1930s. The newspaper is still in circulation today.

Scope and Content Note:

The collection contains full newspapers that are all in good condition.
